"People condemned God to death, but God, through His resurrection, "condemns" people to immortality, instead of the blows that people gave Him, He embraces them; instead of insults, He shares them blessings; instead of death He gives them immortality. Never did men show hatred to God as when they crucified Him, and never did God show love to men as when He rose again. People wanted to make God mortal, but He, through His resurrection, made men immortal."

Saint Iustin Popovici
